Corcentric Hosts Interactive Round Table Discussion on Procurement Transformation Roadmap

LONDON, UK, October 3, 2019 – Determine, a Corcentric company, a leading global provider of SaaS Source-to-Pay and Enterprise Contract Lifecycle Management (ECLM) solutions, and strategic sourcing and procurement experts from Source One Management Services will share insights with a select group of procurement leaders at EBG Sourcing Outlook 2019 on October 10th in Stockholm, Sweden.

Sophie Pope, Sales Director, UK & Nordics at Determine, and Diego De La Garza, Director, Source One will host an Interactive Round Table Discussion called “Building a Procurement Transformation Framework to Maximise the Value of People, Process and Technology.”

“According to Hackett, 95 percent of procurement professionals believe they’ll see a digital transformation within the next two to three years,” explained Sophie Pope, Sales Director, UK & Nordics, Determine, a Corcentric company. “A reliance on technology alone cannot provide optimum business results. A holistic approach that places people and process at the core of the procurement model is a requirement for world-class procurement.”

Drawing on their 25+ years of experience in the supply chain and procurement technology space, Sophie and Diego will walk the audience through experience, tools, cross-industry best practices, and customer case studies that demonstrate the benefits of a holistic Procurement Transformation Framework and best practices to achieve the smoothest implementation possible.

“The promise of new technologies and the threat of emerging risk factors (or any organization change situation: growth, merger and acquisition) lead many procurement departments to develop a procurement transformation “plan” to adapt to change, and elevate their role and impact within their organization,” said

Diego De La Garza, Director, SourceOne, a Corcentric company. “Even high-performing organizations often struggle to bring their procurement teams into this new era effectively. Without a detailed roadmap, even well-resourced procurement teams can grow overwhelmed or find themselves headed toward a dead end.”

Topics covered by the discussion include:

- What are the different organization trigger points to build a procurement roadmap? Is this a one-size-fits all process?
- How to create a roadmap depending on your organization’s objectives?
- How to develop and implement a customized strategy tailored to your organization’s unique pain points, capabilities, and objectives?
- What's the role of digital technology in a procurement transformation plan? In which ways do you expect technology to support your procurement roadmap?
- What do you need to do to prepare for (digital) transformation?
- How do you measure the progress and success of a procurement roadmap?

Attendees will have the opportunity to speak with the Determine team – senior executives, solution engineers and customer experience teams – to learn all the ways they can leverage Determine’s industry-leading modular solution approach to achieve better spend management.
